COMPLAINT PROCEDURES

The City has established a discrimination complaint procedure and shall take prompt and reasonable action to investigate and eliminate discrimination when found. Any person who believes that he or she, or any specific class of persons has been subjected to discrimination or retaliation based upon race, color, religious or family status, sex, national origin, age or disability in connection with any City of Miami affiliated program, service or activity may file a complaint for discrimination under Title VI with the City's Title VI Liaison. The City of Miami adopts the following Complaint Procedures to ensure uniformity and a clear understanding of the process involved in addressing complaints received from the public detailing possible discriminatory actions taken against any person or groups of persons in connection with City affiliated programs, services and/or activities.

Complaints Involving Pedestrian or Transportation Facilities

All discrimination complaints submitted to the City that directly involves a Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) Local Agency Program (LAP) funded capital project of the City will be handled by the Office of Equal Opportunity/Diversity Programs.

However, if at any time a discrimination complaint involving pedestrian or transportation facilities cannot be satisfactorily resolved by the City, the entire complaint and investigative file will be forwarded to the appropriate Federal or State authority for further processing.

How to file a Title VI Complaint?

The Complainant may file a complaint with the Title VI Liaison no later than 180 days after the date of the alleged discrimination. If possible, the complaint should be submitted in writing via email to equalopportunityanddiversity@miamigov.com and contain the following information:

- A. Full name and contact information of the Complainant;
- B. Names(s) and contact information of the official(s) alleged to have discriminated, if applicable;

- C. Basis for the allegations (i.e., race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, religion, family status);
- D. Description of the alleged discrimination with the date of occurrence;
- E. Other agencies (state, local or Federal) where the complaint has been filed, if applicable; and
- F. The names and contact information of any witnesses, if applicable.

If the complaint cannot be submitted in writing, the Complainant should contact the Title VI Liaison for assistance.

A Complainant's failure to respond to requests by the Title VI Liaison for additional information necessary to investigate the discrimination complaint may result in a delay in investigation of the complaint and may possibly result in the administrative closure of the complaint due to a lack of information to properly conduct an investigation of the complaint.

The City's Title VI Liaison has 'easy access' to the City Manager and is not required to obtain management or other approval to discuss discrimination issues with the City Manager. However, should the Complainant be unable or unwilling to complain to the City, the Complainant may submit a written complaint directly to the Florida Department of Transportation ("FDOT") at the address below:

Florida Department of Transportation Equal Opportunity Office ATTN: Title VI Complaint
Processing 605 Suwannee Street MS 65 Tallahassee, FL 32399

The Title VI Complaint Form [\[Form A\]](#) may be used to submit the discrimination complaint. The complaint may be filed verbally or in writing to the City at the following contact information:

NOTE: The City encourages all Complainants to certify all mail that is sent through the U.S. Postal Service and/or ensure that all written correspondence can be tracked easily. Complaints must be mailed to the Title VI Liaison no later than 180 days after the date of the alleged discrimination.

What happens to the complaint once it is submitted? All discrimination complaints received by the City will be directly addressed by the Title VI Liaison in accordance with the process below:

1. Within seven (7) business days, the City's Title VI Liaison shall provide a written letter of acknowledgment of receipt [Form F] of the discrimination complaint received by Complainant and shall inform the Complainant of the procedures to be undertaken to process the complaint and of all other means of redress available to the Complainant.
2. Within thirty (30) calendar days, the Title VI Liaison shall officiate the investigation of the complaint and determine whether its substantiated or unsubstantiated.
3. If the complaint is substantiated upon the City's investigation of the information collected and compiled pertaining to the complaint, a written determination response will be prepared for review by the City Attorney, including, if applicable, an explanation of the actions the City has taken or is proposing to take to resolve the complaint.
4. Within sixty (60) calendar days of receipt of the verbal or written discrimination complaint, the Title VI Liaison shall notify the Complainant in writing of the final decision reached by the City, including the proposed disposition of the original filing of discrimination. The final decision letter will advise the Complainant of his or her right to file a formal complaint with the FDOT's Equal Opportunity Office (EEO), if they are dissatisfied with the final decision rendered by the City.
5. For more information on unsubstantiated complaints see How will Complainant be notified of outcome of the complaint? Page 11

How will Complainant be notified of outcome of the complaint?

The Title VI Liaison will deliver by US Postal Mail service a written determination letter [Form G] to the Complainant explaining the actions the City has taken or is proposing to take to resolve the complaint. If the outcome of the investigation of the complaint of discrimination is found to be unsubstantiated, the Complainant will be notified of such in writing [Form H] and advised of his or her right to: 1) appeal the City's decision within seven (7) calendar days of receipt of the written determination letter from the City; and/or 2) file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Transportation and/or the U.S. Department of Justice and the contact information below.

LIMITED ENGLISH PROFICIENCY (LEP) PLAN

According to the 2020 Decennial Census, Miami has an approximate total population of 467,963 residents. Approximately 27 percent of the City's population speaks only English, and 73 percent speaks a language other than English, with Spanish being the other predominant language. Of the population that speaks a language other than English, 70 percent speak Spanish.

Because of the large number of Spanish speaking residents, the City regularly provides information in both predominant languages - English and Spanish. Information regarding essential programs, services and activities are provided on the City's website and in City facilities open to the public. Residents can request translations of documents to other commonly spoken languages. A large portion of the City's employees are bilingual and competently speak Spanish and English and other languages who are willing to provide translation and/or interpretation services. In all other cases, City information can be conveyed in other languages as may be necessary. The City regularly disseminates information via its website at www.miamigov.com, and its television station, Channel 77, in both English and Spanish.

The City recognizes the need to accommodate residents with limited English proficiency and is committed to providing programs and services that are accessible to all persons regardless of potential language barriers. The City understands that its community profile is changing and that future analysis of the City LEP Plan may reveal the need for more or varied LEP services in the future.

The following guidelines are presently used to assist persons with Limited English Proficiency:

1. Meetings, hearings and other public involvement event include bilingual interpreters and written information, as appropriate.
2. The City Title VI/Nondiscrimination Program Policy and Complaint Procedures are available on the City's main website at www.miamigov.com in both English and Spanish, and can be made available in other languages as requested.

The City will review its LEP procedures annually to determine if modifications are needed to meet language assistance deficiencies. Persons requiring special language services should contact the City's Title VI Liaison.

PUBLIC PARTICIPATION ELEMENT

In order to plan for efficient, effective, safe, equitable and reliable transportation systems, the City must have input of its public. The City actively seeks to engage the public in its planning and decision-making processes. Members of the public may make statements at Commission meetings, which occur on alternating Thursdays, twice a month. City Commission agendas are available for review by the public no less than five (5) days before Commission meetings. Notices of select resolutions or ordinances proposed to be considered by the City Commission are announced in print in local newspapers as public hearing items allowing the public to voice their input.

The City continuously seeks innovative methods to engage the public in its planning and decision-making processes, and most often City officials and staff members coordinate outreach activities to solicit public input. The City also adheres to the following outreach activities:

- Social media communication on the City's official Facebook and Twitter feeds--@CityofMiami for general City news, @MiamiTrolley for Transit announcements or @MiamiCITP for news and announcements on capital projects;
- Engaging the community through educational and promotional marketing activities in connection with transit services;
- The City's Title VI/Nondiscrimination Complaint Procedure is available to the public online at www.miamigov.com;
- Utilizing partner institutions and departments including the Miami Downtown Development Authority, the affiliated Community Redevelopment Agencies of the City, the Neighborhood Enhancement Team, Miami-Dade Transit, South Florida Commuter Services, the Florida Department of Transportation, etc. to extend the area of dissemination of City programmatic information materials and publications;
- Inviting public inquiries about all programs, services and activities through general meeting announcements resulting from notice of funding availability from City funding agencies, Commission District community meetings held within specific communities; and
- The City maintains an online database of City Commission action on legislative matters and all such records are available and accessible to the public via the City's main website at www.miamigov.com. Resolutions adopted by the City to apply for and utilize Federal and State grant funding are posted on the public hearing/meeting agenda web page and are subject to public notice and comment procedures.

The City spends extensive staff and financial resources in furtherance of the goal of obtaining public involvement and continues to strongly encourage the participation of the entire community. The City holds a number of transportation meetings, workshops and other events designed to gather public input on project planning and construction. Further, the City attends and participates in other community events to promote its services to the public. Finally, the City is constantly seeking ways of measuring the effectiveness of its public involvement.

Persons wishing to request special presentations by the City; volunteer in any of its activities or offer suggestions for improvement of city/county public involvement may contact:

DATA COLLECTION/REPORTING ANALYSIS

Federal Highway Administration regulations require federal-aid recipients to collect racial, ethnic and other similar demographic data on beneficiaries of or those affected by transportation programs, services and activities. The City accomplishes this through the use of census data, American Community Survey reports, Environmental Screening Tools (EST), driver and ridership surveys, its Community Development Planning Departments and other methods. From time to time, the City may find it necessary to request voluntary identification of certain racial, ethnic or other data from those who participate in its public involvement events. This information assists the City with improving its targeted outreach and measures of effectiveness. Self-identification of personal data to the City will always be voluntary and anonymous. Moreover, the City will not release or otherwise use this data in any manner inconsistent with the federal regulations.

The Title VI Liaison compiles and maintains the official records of the Title VI Program for the City of Miami. At a minimum, records maintained shall include:

1. notice of all lawsuits and complaints filed against the City;
2. a description of assistance applications that the City has pending in other agencies and of other Federal assistance being provided;
3. a description of any civil rights compliance reviews of the applicant during the preceding two years; and
4. a statement as to whether the applicant has been found in noncompliance with any relevant civil rights requirements.

City of Miami Language Assistance Plan (“LAP”)

1. Language Access Policy

It is the policy of the City of Miami (“City”) to prohibit discrimination in all federally funded programs and services offered to its residents regardless of race, color, age, religion, gender, disability, or national origin, which includes persons with Limited English Proficiency (“LEP”). The City follows the federal mandate to make reasonable efforts to ensure that LEP applicants and beneficiaries have meaningful access to services, programs and activities for which they may be eligible. Language assistance tools are provided in the primary language spoken at home. Individuals who require language assistance or who experience discrimination because of the inability to speak, read or understand English are encouraged to advise the Office of Equal Opportunity and Diversity Programs.

2. Purpose

The purpose of the City’s Language Assistance Plan (“LAP”) is to: (1) show that the City has made reasonable efforts to help ensure that persons with limited English proficiency have meaningful access to City programs and services; (2) help prevent discrimination against LEP persons based on their national origin (which includes limited English proficiency); and (3) comply with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

3. Language Assistance Plan

Individuals with limited English proficiency have access to translators when needed. The City’s public announcements are provided in English, Spanish and Haitian-Creole. Language assistance is also provided to those who are hearing impaired. These services are also available upon request by the public.

In compliance with Executive Order 13166, directing recipients and sub-recipients of federal aid to ensure such discrimination does not take place, the City outlines the components of the plan below.

4. Language Assistance Plan Components

Factor 1: The number or proportion of LEP persons eligible to be served or likely to be encountered by the City programs and services:

Just over thirty-three percent (33.6%) of Miami-Dade County’s population speaks English “less than very well.” This indicates that one-third of the population has limited English proficiency. Approximately thirty percent (30%) are individuals whose primary language at home is Spanish. Approximately 1.5 percent of the population primarily speak Haitian-Creole, while a little over one percent (1%) speak “other” languages at home. ¹

Factor 2: The frequency with which LEP individuals come into contact with City programs and services:

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the City of Miami had a population of approximately 450,000 as of 2019. The City provides a variety of municipal services that are potentially available to all persons living or doing business within City limits. Therefore, the frequency for contact with LEP persons is potentially high and ongoing.

Factor 3: The importance of the services provided by the City:

The City provides various municipal services to the public to improve and enrich their lives. Services include transportation and infrastructure, housing and economic development, as well as parks and recreation programs. These vital services play a pivotal role in enriching City neighborhoods and improving the overall quality of life for City residents.

Addressing community development needs is also a high-level priority for the City of Miami. The City works to stimulate neighborhood development through strategic implementation of its programs and services. For example, the City uses its resources to provide employment training as well as services to the disabled, elderly, youth, and children.

Listed below are some of the other vital services provided by various City Departments:

Department of Housing and Community Development (“HCD”)

The Department of Housing and Community Development provides a wide range of important services. Some of those services include elderly meals, childcare, programs for youth and the disabled, and housing assistance and economic development programs.

Many of the City’s elderly depend on daily meals from these programs to survive. Working parents rely on child and youth programs within safe environments that provide educational and recreational activities. Housing programs mainly provide affordable housing by either reducing the rent of units and/or providing direct rental assistance where low-income participants would not be cost-burdened by the high cost of housing in Miami. These programs are of great need and importance especially to low-to-moderate income households.

HCD also works in conjunction with various other City Departments to provide a multitude of other services such as: supporting local business development, providing financial assistance for new home construction and rehabilitation, providing homeless outreach services, and improving public parks and infrastructure.

Department of Resilience and Public Works (“RPW”)

RPW offers a free public transportation through its Trolley service. The service is comprised of approximately 54 City-owned Trolleys with 13 existing routes, covering 122 miles, while providing connections to approximately 53 Miami-Dade County MetroBus routes, 11 MetroRail Transit hubs, and connections to the municipal trolley networks of Coral Gables and West Miami. The City's Trolley network primarily serves to augment the existing regional transit system provided by Miami-Dade County.

Since the program's launch in early 2012, the City's system has experienced steady ridership growth. In 2019, the City served close to 5.4 million riders, averaging approximately 400,000+ riders per month and over 10,000 daily riders of all ethnicities and backgrounds.

Office of Capital Improvements ("OCI")

OCI provides projects that have a significant impact in the community. OCI delivers resilient, sustainable and innovative facilities and infrastructure through the construction and improvement of roadway milling and resurfacing, flood mitigation, drainage improvements, public parks, playgrounds, community centers, aquatic facilities, athletic fields, seawalls, marinas, boat ramps, kayak launches, restroom facilities, arts and cultural facilities, municipal and maintenance facilities, as well as environmental remediation, cleanup and reconstruction of public areas and the construction of public safety facilities. All of these projects bring improvements to the City of Miami and help improve the quality of life for residents and businesses.

Factor 4. The resources available and overall costs:

The City regularly provides information in English, Spanish, and Haitian-Creole. Information regarding essential programs, services, and activities are provided on the City's website and in City facilities open to the public. Residents can also request translations of documents into Spanish or Creole. A large portion of the City's employees are bilingual, which facilitates communication with LEP individuals. The City regularly disseminates information via its website, www.miamigov.com, and its television station, Channel 77.

The various offices of the City have employees dedicated to community outreach and engagement who create all materials originally in English, then translates them in-house into Spanish for Districts 1, 3 and 4. It shares the information only in English with District 2 residents, and for specific projects in District 5, it seeks the assistance of staff from the NET Office for translation of brief project materials into Creole. Additionally, the City outsources translation services from a list of qualified agencies, when needed.

The following guidelines are used to assist persons with limited English proficiency:

- a. Meetings, hearings and other public involvement events include bilingual interpreters for oral and written information, as appropriate.
- b. The City's Title VI/Nondiscrimination Policy and Complaint Procedures is posted within all Trolley vehicles in English, Spanish, and Creole (see sample LAP Image 1 below). The information is hosted on the City's web page in English and Spanish and may be made available in other languages, as requested.

5. Language Assistance Services

The City of Miami provides language assistance (such as qualified interpreters or staff whose proficiency in non-English languages has been documented), in both face-to-face and telephone encounters that address the needs. Language assistance may be provided through a variety of means, including qualified bilingual and multilingual staff or contracted interpreters.

The City of Miami ensures that the interpreters are qualified to provide the service and understand interpreter ethics and client confidentiality needs. A list of qualified vendors is available upon request.

The Language Assistance Plan includes department oversight/responsibilities interpretation/translation services for LEP; training of staff; providing notice to LEP individuals, instituting a complaint process as well as monitoring and updating the plan and strategies to communicate the contents of the plan.

Additionally, the City does outreach to promote programs and services. The main form of outreach to the public has always been the public hearings, whereby all residents, developers, public service agencies, housing associations, economic development providers, clients, and other City Departments are invited via a printed advertisement in The Miami Herald, multiple e-mail blasts, and printed flyers mailed out to all agencies. At these hearings, surveys are made available to all those in attendance to further address their district's needs, and the same survey is posted on the department's website for digital submission.

Email blasts are sent to hundreds of community institution and individuals to promote the public hearings. Information flyers detailing the event or programs are also posted in public areas.

Targeted Outreach further includes making information available on departments' main web page, social media, and non-English Speaking (Spanish, Creole) media.

6. Procedures for providing language services

The City will review and update, this Language Assistance Plan in order to ensure responsiveness to community's needs and compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. LEP persons are entitled to language assistance with respect to services and benefits. The Title VI coordinator is responsible for monitoring compliance with the language access plan.

The City collects and maintains information on language usage and needs, including primary language of customers; use of language interpretation services; distribution of translated documents; frequency of contact with LEP individuals seeking services; and referrals of LEP individuals.

10. Complaint & Grievance Process

This plan advises LEP individuals of their right to language access services, which includes information of our complaint process, in the event service or benefits are denied or they believe their rights have been violated. The below outlines the complaint procedures:

- b. The complaint should specify the date, individuals involved, and the nature of the client’s grievance.
- c. All complaints will be directed to the Title VI Coordinator.
- d. The Title VI Coordinator will investigate and notify the parties of the results of the investigations within 30 days upon receipt of the complaint.

11. Responsibilities

Each City department providing federal programs, services, or projects will have a designated LAP coordinator who will be responsible for advising participants of the City’s LEP/LAP provisions. Materials will be posted in conspicuous areas where staff and persons with limited English proficiency interact. These would include reception areas and other open spaces. Details concerning how to access programs and services are available on the City website and in public areas like building entrances, trolleys, and program meeting areas.

LAP coordinators will ensure that anyone requesting language assistance receives interpretation or translation in the language preferred from the list of approved agencies at no charge.

In the event participants do not receive the proper assistance or they feel the assistance was not satisfactory, they may file a complaint with the City’s Title VI Coordinator/EODP Administrator. The complaint form is available on the website at www.miamigov.com/EODP. Complaints may be filed electronically by e-mail or in person at the Office of EODP. The Title VI Coordinator will review the complaint and conduct an investigation into the matter as outlined in the Grievance Process section.
